HOME FIRE—Falmouth firefighters were dispatched to the scene of a structure fire around 8:34 p.m. on Sunday, February 15 in McKinneysburg. A vacant house, located on Walker Lane and owned by Jacob Hart, erupted in flames and quickly became fully engulfed causing the dwelling to be a total loss. The 911 call came in from a passerby who saw the flames. According to Assistant Fire Chief Darrin Brown, it is believed a heater running in the structure malfunctioned causing the blaze. Northern Pendleton Fire Department and Pendleton County Red Cross assisted at the scene. Firefighters were not only battling high winds and below freezing temperatures, but were forced to haul water from hydrants on Jenkins Lane several miles away. Over 11,000 gallons of water were used to extinguish the blaze. The Pendleton County Road Department was called out to cover the roads that were being traveled during the emergency with salt due to water from the fire trucks freezing on the roadway. Firefighters were on the scene until approximately 11:10 p.m. (NEWS)
